

We are happy to invite you to join the International Week

FOOD SAFETY

at School of Food and Agriculture of Seinäjoki University of Applied Sciences, FINLAND taking place 11th - 15th June 2018.

THE INTERNATIONAL WEEK 'Food Safety' is aimed at teachers and staff representing the fields of Hospitality Management, Biotechnology, Food and Agriculture in our partner institutions. A special attention in workshops will be paid to curricula development and different aspects of Food Safety in High-Tech Agriculture, Nutrition and Big Data as well as to learning from each other's good practices in the field.

THE THEME 'High-Tech Agriculture' covers topics in new innovations in agricultural technology and processes, like photonics, smart food systems, innovative processes and 3D scanning. The topic 'Nutrition' deals with sustainable, safe and healthy diets (e.g. reducing overweight, alternative protein sources), as well as pays attention to food experiences. Under the theme 'Big Data' will be discussed ensuring high levels of food security with the topics of digitalization and traceability.

THE INTERNATIONAL WEEK INCLUDES OPPORTUNITIES FOR TAKING PART IN:

- Workshops
- Lectures and presentations
- Company visits
- Food Safety 2020 Conference:
eriaff2018.seamk.fi
- Social programme
- Networking with International colleagues.
